Park Road, Tameside

Park Road is a five person, supported living service in Tameside (Greater Manchester) for people with learning disabilities and mental health problems. The support is provided by CareTech within five individual flats and consists of high staff support to work with people with complex mental health conditions, such as schizophrenia. The service supports people who may have previously been in residential care or hospital services. There are high levels of staff support, and this enables the team to work on each individual's motivation, self-belief, independent living skills and manage any anxieties. The expectation is for the support hours of each client to reduce over time.
